We're looking for physicians who didn't learn everything they know in medical school.

There are certain things you can't learn in school. Like caring and concern for patients. At VISTA we design locum tenens packages for special physicians. Whether they're trying to figure out what kind of practice they fit into, or considering cutting out the business of medicine and getting back to the adventure. We've got the expertise to find them desirable assignments and locations, comprehensive malpractice insurance and competitive compensation. We take care of all the details so they can practice medicine their way—where their skills will make a difference. We can do the same for you, wherever you are in your career.
